

As Much Cultural History As We Can Stand

When A and B start living together, it's a giggle!

"How's it working out?" ask you each.

"Great!"

Turn around twice and they're like old married folks.

Even more boring--if that's possible.

When living in sin lost its guilty cachet,
Life assumed the color of week-old grease.